Cleveland Gets Stray Dog Law

79 years Cleveland has been dealing with stray dogs. On Tuesday the city council passed an amendment to the 1888 ordinance providing for the impounding of dogs. The amendment resulted from weeks of study of the problem, while less severe, it is expected to help the community of dogs by their owners. The new law becomes effective on June 1 and provides for the impounding of all dogs found at night. It also provides for the impounding of dogs that have no tags on their ears. Evidence of compliance with the law will be kept in the pound during which time the dogs can claim their pets for their board plus $10 to be refunded if proof of inoculation in accordance with state laws is presented.

Bay Motors, Inc., made the low bid on a truck for the town and it was accepted by council. It calls for 24 monthly payments of $168.26 as compared with $179.20 per month offered by Mike Persia Chevrolet Co., Inc., of New Orleans. After hearing Mrs. Frank Kiefer explain the expected content and distribution of a new publication, The Mississippi Coast Monitor, council bought a quarter page advertisement for $93.50. Council also voted to buy a quarter page advertisement in the Deep Sea Fishing Rodeo's program for $25. Appointment of Forest Bourgeois as custodian of grounds at Town Hall, the water tower, and the graveyard was approved. The appointment was effective as of May 1 and expires on Sept. 30. Pay was set at $50 per month. (Cont. on Page 5)

U. S. 90 WRECK CAR—Mrs. Alma Jacoway, 71-year-old Texan who was riding in this 1958 model Chevrolet involved in a two-car collision on U. S. 90 just west of Bay St. Louis Wednesday morning, remained unconscious today at Hancock County Hospital. The accident hospitalized three others.

Graduation Time Nears For Seniors

Vesper services Sunday will herald the approach of the graduation season at several schools in Hancock County. Joseph E. Gibson, president of Gulf Park College, will address the Bay High School seniors at vespers in the school auditorium at 6 p.m. Sunday. The school chorus, accompanied by Mrs. Toy Tedford, will sing Cherubim Song No. 7 and Carleen Garvey will present a solo, He Shall Feed His Flock.

Commencement exercises will be at 8 p.m. next Friday with S. L. McCullough as guest speaker. A class of about 46 is to receive diplomas at that time. The eighth grade commencement at Bay High will be at 8 p.m. next Thursday.

North Central High School, which will open its door for the first classes next September, will be the scene of baccalaureate services at 2 p.m. Sunday for the 20 seniors from Kiln and Sellers School who will be its first graduating class. Father Celestin Pfannestiel, pastor of Church of the Annunciation at Kiln will deliver the sermon and the Rev. J. E. Moore of Lee Chapel, Leetown, will give the benediction. An open house will follow, giving the public another opportunity to inspect the modern half-million plant.

Commencement there will be at 8 p.m. next Thursday in the gymnasium with J. M. Tubb, superintendent of the State Department of Education, as speaker. Prayers will be led by Father Pfannestiel and Mr. Moore while R. E. Webb, North Central principal, will give the welcome and award diplomas. Mrs. Ruth Ketchum will provide music.

Seventeen graduates at Valena C. Jones School will get their diplomas at 8 p.m. Monday, May 25, at the school. Baccalaureate services will be the preceding day, May 24, at 8:30 p.m. at the school.

A graduating class of 30 at St. Joseph's Academy is to have its final exercises at 8 p.m. Wednesday, May 27, at the Memorial Hall on the school grounds. Msgr. Martin Moloney will be speaker for the 105th commencement exercises of St. Stanislaus College at 8 p.m. Thursday, May 28, at Our Lady of the Gulf Church. There are 48 in the class. Awards will be presented to the graduates at the conclusion of final examinations.

A class of nine seniors at St. Rose de Lima will attend baccalaureate services at 6 a.m. Sunday, May 31, at the church and will get their diplomas at 8 p.m. that day in ceremonies at the school hall.

Twelve eighth graders at Christ Episcopal Day School compose the second class to graduate there. The ceremonies are planned at 8:30 p.m. May 25 on the school grounds, 912 S. Beach Blvd., with Frank Stevens of Pearlinton as speaker.

Dedeaux Delegation Appears

County Teachers Get $100 Salary Increase

The Hancock County Board of Education, at a recessed meeting Saturday, voted a $100 increase to its classroom teachers for the 1959-60 school term. Superintendent E. E. Breland said it is the first time an across the board salary hike has been granted to Hancock County's teachers from local funds. All others have come through state funds.

Motion for the increase was offered by Trustee Alton Kellar and seconded by Charles Murphy. It provided also that the board would establish criteria for selection of substitute teachers since the pay raise eliminates the five-day sick leave provision presently applying.

Breland had proposed cutting out the sick-leave plan and hiking salaries when the board met May 4 but trustees withheld action to consider means of controlling the teachers' selection of substitutes in case of illness. The superintendent brought up the matter again Saturday, noting that he is preparing the budget for next year and would have to know about future salaries.

Problems accruing from the merger of the Dedeaux, Kiln, Leetown and Sellers Schools into the new North Central High School plant next fall arose again at the meeting when a delegation of Dedeaux patrons appeared to protest taking equipment from that building for the new school.

The Dedeaux group contended that all four schools should contribute a like amount of equipment and argued, in essence, that just because that plant had more desirable things, it should not be stripped while other buildings retained some of their possessions. They asked specifically that everything be allowed to remain in the cafeteria until the church fair there July 24, Mrs. C. C. (Cont. on Page 6)

BISHOP F. J. SHEEN Preacher For Anniversary

Bishop Fulton J. Sheen, D.D., of New York will preach at services May 25 at the Divine Word Seminary of St. Augustine celebrating the silver jubilee of the order's first Negro priests.

Simultaneously there will be a celebration of holy mass by three Negro priests who were ordained here a quarter century ago.

The priests are Father Anthony Bourgeois, S.V.D.; Maurice Rousseau, S.V.D.; and Francis Wade, S.V.D. These three, with Father Vincent Smith, O.C.S.O., a fourth Negro priest, now deceased, were ordained here 25 years ago amidst a great gathering of the Catholic clergy and laity.

Their ordination was widely heralded at the time as they were the first priests produced by St. Augustine Seminary which had been founded here especially to increase the number of Negro priests in the United States.

The Divine Word Missionaries, who conduct St. Augustine Seminary, are inviting all their friends to attend the jubilee celebrations which begin at 11 a.m. May 26.

State Funds Granted For City School

The Bay St. Louis Separate Municipal School Board will meet in special session at 7:30 p.m. today to act on the contract and agreement for construction of the 16-room Dunbar Elementary School following allocation of state bond funds for the project.

Superintendent J. D. McCullough was notified Monday that the State Educational Finance Commission last Thursday gave its approval to $56,622 for the local building program.

Before final plans and specifications for the structure are started, local authorities are to confer with the executive secretary of the state body to ascertain that they meet educational and commission requirements.

The superintendent said he hopes arrangements can be completed to let the construction contract so work can begin in the fall with possible completion in time for the second semester of the 1959-60 session.

With funds here from the bond issue floated for local school construction, it is hoped to start the Waveland School cafeteria project and the addition to Valena C. Jones School simultaneously so that with good weather in the winter they also will be ready next January.

Coast's First Medallion Home is Here

The Mississippi Gulf Coast's first "Gold Medallion" home has just been completed in Hancock County and will be opened to the public for inspection Saturday from 10 a.m. until 9 p.m.

It was erected by C. C. McDonald Jr., local contractor and developer, in Briarwood, an exclusive residential section on Blue Meadow Road (Main Street extended) just outside the Bay St. Louis corporate limits.

This model home, considered perfect under standards set up by the electrical industry on a nationwide basis, is the first of a series of quality homes to be constructed in Briarwood. Part of the area under development faces Blue Meadow Road and the other is along Felicity Street.

The medal for excellence in electricity was awarded last week to the home by H. Hardin Shattuck of Coast Electric Company whose firm recently qualified under the Live Better Electrically Program after more than six months of preparation on specifications, standards on wiring, lighting and appliances.

The residence is not a pretentious one but is designed for comfortable living utilizing the many conveniences provided by (Cont. on Page 10)

Groundbreaking Slated Woman, 71, Thursday for Hospital Badly Hurt

Groundbreaking ceremonies for the new Hancock County Hospital have been set for Thursday, May 21, following the signing of contracts and work orders Monday.

Hospital Gets 7 Associate Staff Doctors

Seven Gulfport physicians, all specialists in their respective fields, were accepted for associate staff privileges at Hancock County Hospital during a meeting of the medical staff of the hospital Tuesday afternoon. Dr. A. K. Martinovich, staff secretary, announced to the hospital Board of Trustees at its meeting Tuesday night.

The physicians are Dr. Bedford Floyd, general surgery and a former Bay St. Louis resident; Dr. Charles Floyd, general surgery; Dr. George Byrne, general surgery; Dr. Henry Haberman, pathology; Dr. Emil Gutman, radiology; Dr. Gerald Wessler, urology; and Dr. Wesley Lake, internal medicine.

Dr. Martinovich told the board that the physicians, after a year as required by the laws of the medical staff, would be admitted to the consulting staff.

T. T. Reboul, treasurer of the board, reported the financial picture of the hospital to be "very good" and announced that it is expected that there will be about a $15,000 surplus in funds at the end of the fiscal year on Sept. 30.

day during a meeting of the Board of Supervisors. The hour has not yet been set.

Wilfred Dawson, architect for the hospital, said that the contract calls for 365 working days but estimated the institution would be finished "possibly by next March."

Perrilliat and Rickey Construction Co. of New Orleans had submitted the successful low bid of $471,900, some $85,500 more than the originally estimated cost of $386,000. Supervisors have already approved a $75,000 bond issue to be repaid with funds from the county hospital maintenance allocation of three mills annually to supply the additional funds necessary for the construction.

At Monday's session, supervisors decided to send a delegation that afternoon to the Mississippi Commission for Hospital Care, meeting in Biloxi, to apply for additional funds. But by the time they reached Biloxi, the commission had adjourned.

Sam L. Favre, attorney for the Board, said Tuesday that the supervisors would apply to the Commission by letter. He noted that Foster L. Fowler, executive secretary of the commission, had declared earlier that federal funds were "very low" and that Fowler did not think additional funds would be available to Hancock County unless another hospital project in the state failed. Despite this, Favre said, the application would be made anyway.

While meeting with officials of Perrilliat and Rickey, Supervisor R. C. Hubbard requested as much local labor as possible be used during the construction.

A 71-year-old Orange, Tex., woman was still unconscious in Hancock County Hospital today, more than 24 hours after she suffered internal and leg injuries in a two-car collision in front of Scaffid Brothers Service Station on U. S. 90.

She is Mrs. Alma Jacoway, who was riding in a 1958 model automobile driven by Mary A. Jacoway, 27, also of Orange, Tex., who suffered a fractured right leg and lacerations and is hospitalized in Gulfport after early treatment here.

Also injured were Henry M. McGuire, 54-year-old New Orleansian and retired district sales manager for a distillery, who was operating a 1955 Cadillac involved in the collision, and his wife, Mrs. McGuire, who suffered possible internal injuries, was kept at Hancock County Hospital where Administrator Edgar Little said she was improved this morning.

McGuire, with a broken right knee cap, lacerations of the mouth and loss of teeth, was taken to Gulfport for treatment.

According to Highway Patrolmen T. P. Naylor and Joseph A. Pol, the accident occurred about 10 a.m. Wednesday when the Jacoway car, headed east, attempted to cross the highway into the service station and crashed into the side of the McGuire vehicle, traveling west. Damage to the McGuire car was estimated at $1,000 and to the Jacoway vehicle at $900. A third car involved, driven by William K. Laughlin of Pass Christian, was parked in the station driveway and damaged by $5.

The highway patrol station at Gulfport would not say whether any charges were filed in the accident, explaining that it has a rule forbidding disclosure of that information.

Acquit Five In Liquor Raid Cases

Five men, one a former state legislator, were acquitted Saturday of liquor law violations growing out of raids by the National Guard and the Hancock County Sheriff's officers last December.

A jury summoned by Justice of the Peace W. C. Brunson found the men, former Hancock County State Representative Francis "Goat" Lee, A. W. Alsbrook, Prentiss Kennedy, Eli Alsbrook, and Harry Blackwell, innocent on all nine of the counts.

A squad of 20 guardsmen led by Adjutant General W. F. Wilson had raided six places just inside the Hancock County line Dec. 6 and had destroyed about 15 cases of whiskey and numerous cases of beer which was being sold without proper beer licenses.

On Dec. 23, Sheriff Sylvan J. Lachner and his deputies executed raids on two of the places and again on Dec. 28, raided another, seizing quantities of beer and liquor.

Cancer Drive Quarter Way Toward Goal

Only about a quarter of the $1,100 goal for the 1959 Hancock County Cancer Drive has been deposited as of this week, Mrs. Lewis M. Wagner, chairman, announced.

Door to door canvassing began last week and is being continued until educational material has been distributed to as many residents as possible in keeping with the American Cancer Society's policy.

These distributions are made whether or not donations are collected.

Mrs. Wagner noted that aid to a local terminal cancer patient began last week and operational funds providing this aid are "very low". She appealed to the generosity of Hancock Countyans for donations to replenish the account.

Juveniles and Cars

Perhaps someone accidentally broke one plank and then a Halloween spirit came out, but whether malicious or merely mischievous, somebody or somebodies completely wrecked the body of one of the Parent-Teacher Association's trailers used for carrying floats in the Mardi Gras parade. The loss in the same either way. Since the trailer had been parked in the open field adjacent to the Youth Center, teen-agers appear to be the ones involved, though not necessarily so.

Viewing this damage yesterday brought to mind the recent complaint of probation officer Hall H. Glensier of Reading, Penna., who resigned his job because of over work. In his view the automobile is the number one weapon of teen-age delinquents. The mobility provided by a car makes it harder for a probation officer to know with whom a delinquent associates. The same mobility may even invite the delinquent to trouble and furnishes a privacy dangerous to even the healthiest boy-girl relationship.

Mr. Glensier suggested as a partial solution raising the age limit to obtain a driver's permit in Pennsylvania to 18. While there may be merit in his suggestion in Mississippi as well as in Pennsylvania, a better solution might be to raise the age to 21 for anyone twice convicted in any court, juvenile or otherwise, leaving the present limit for those who behave themselves—or don't get caught.

Mrs. Carver's Spanker

The sorrow and grief of a dear and gallant lady is shared by many since the death last week of her good, faithful, and devoted companion.

Mrs. Tillian Carver, the courageous, sightless operator of the concession stand in the courthouse, had a heartrending decision to make when it finally became apparent last Tuesday that Spanker, her boxer, was succumbing to a disease dreaded by all dog lovers.

About four years ago, her veterinarian had told her Spanker had heart worms and that the advancing age of this lovable and gentle animal made more than mild treatment impossible.

This came as a dreadful disappointment to "Miss Lil" as she is known to hundreds of persons who visit her daily for refreshments. She and Spanker had been together for almost a dozen years after they had trained together at the Seeing Eye Institute in New Jersey.

"Miss Lil" said that last Tuesday morning Spanker barely could climb the courthouse steps and, upon entering the building, was unable to go further without much coaxing. Then she knew, Miss Lil continued, that she must terminate its life.

Spanker was taken to New Orleans where the veterinarian who had cared for her for many years mercifully administered the medication which put Spanker out of her suffering.

To talk with "Miss Lil" and learn further of the devotion and companionship given each by the other is a very deep and touching experience.

Later this month Mrs. Carver hopes to go to Morristown for another guide dog, though "No other dog could take Spanker's place in my heart."

—B.C.W.

It is rather fitting that during this week, National Hospital Week, there should be three developments of significance dealing with Hancock County's own hospital facilities. On Monday the board of supervisors signed work orders for construction of the new, and greatly needed, hospital and set next Thursday for the traditional ground breaking ceremonies, which we hope will be well attended.

In addition, at its meeting Tuesday night the hospital Board of Trustees was told by staff secretary Dr. A. K. Martinovich that seven Gulfport medical specialists will have staff privileges at the hospital.

"Go to the polls and free the tolls" reads some of the campaign material of Willard L. Richardson, candidate for Highway Commissioner. Wonder if that accounts for candidate Highway Commissioner John Smith's recommendation for reduction in commuter toll rates approved Tuesday by the State Highway Commission? Without holding office seems like maybe perhaps candidate Richardson has helped Hancock County more than incumbent Smith.

Congressional Sidelights

By REP. WILLIAM M. COLLIER
THE MICHIGAN MESS

The "something for nothing" philosophy of government ran its full course to the bitter end last month in Michigan, when the State was unable to meet the payroll for 325 employees. Ironically, included among those left unpaid were the 114 members of the state legislature and the 8 Supreme Court justices. Some 28,000 other State employees faced the prospect of a payless payday.

Michigan is the only State in the Union where the State and local governments are becoming so deeply in debt that they are unable to pay their bills. The State of Michigan is now in a financial mess that is unprecedented in its history.

The Michigan mess has become a national problem as federal agencies are being asked to contribute to the State's financial needs. The State of Michigan is now in a financial mess that is unprecedented in its history.

gratified to note a news story the other day to the effect that Mississippi was one of 20 states whose financial status is sound.

Of course, in the end the people themselves—not just the rich, but everybody—must pay the bill for a "spend ourselves into prosperity" program such as has been advocated from time to time, especially by the Williams-Readler wing of the Democratic Party.

The most distressing thing about such a program of unbridled spending is that it feeds inflation, and inflation hits hardest the neediest of our citizens—those on a fixed income from a veteran's pension, old age assistance, social security, retirement, or a small salary as a school teacher. And yet the program for more spending which feeds the inflationary spiral never lets up. So many of us are all out for economy as long as it does not hit us and our pet proposals. Maybe this is for everybody but we talk about it as if it were a game, but it can't be played with the lives of our people. We have to stop spending and start saving.

Our Chinese correspondent might report it this way:
"Car drive up road. Car get stuck in mud. He also stuck.
"State police chase car, drive up road. He stuck too.
"Another state police car drive up road. He stuck too.
"Another state police car go up road. He stuck too.

"Car go from Lynchburg to get photographer, reporter. He stuck-not in mud but with dead battery.
"Second car go from Lynchburg for two newsmen, one photographer who stuck. He come back with photographer alone."
It all happened during last night's pouring rain in a space of four hours or so.
State police had pursued a car up a side road in Amherst County, off U. S. 29. For more than three hours, efforts were made to free the growing list of mud-entrapped vehicles.
At midnight, "rescue" operations were still under way. Third Division headquarters at Appomattox reported then that radio signals which had kept the marooned party in touch with the outside world were fading out. They said batteries in the cars apparently were giving out after the long workout.

The man who will use his skill and constructive imagination to see how much he can give for a dollar, instead of how little he can give for a dollar, is bound to succeed.

4-H Awards Given at Rally

About 600 4-H Club members from all parts of Hancock County came to Bay St. Louis last Friday for their annual parade and rally during which medals for the year's work were presented.

Top honors went to Mary Henderson, Bay High School senior and daughter of Dr. and Mrs. W. P. Henderson, who won both the achievement and leadership awards as well as a prize in food preservation.

Also recognized in food preservation were Margie Byrd, Kathryn Schaefer and Edith Traub.

Awards for beautification of home grounds went to Wanda Lee and Paula Reynolds.

Audrey Floore of North Central High School was the lone winner in canning while Paula Harrel and Judy Shaw both took home prizes in recreational work.

Awards for clothing went to Jacquelyn Joemenn, Kathryn Williams, Elaine Williams and Allen Courge.

Assistant County Agent Charles Smith called the rally to order at the Star Theater and recognized visitors and Bobby Brown led the 4-H pledge. Mary Henderson led the song and the Rev. Adrien Mercier gave the devotional and Mayor John Scalfie welcomed the 4-H'ers to Bay St. Louis. The response was given by Gale Parker and Superintendent of County Schools E. E. Breland extended the welcome from the county school board.

As Smith called the roll of the individual clubs, each group arose, displayed its banner and the secretary gave its report.

Speakers for the occasion were Dr. L. A. Legett of New Orleans; Mrs. J. E. Erwin, Bay High homemaker instructor who discussed careers in home economics, and Davis Barnes, vocational agriculture teacher at Kiln School who talk on work of the Future Farmers of America.

Mrs. R. F. Gray awarded the medals.

Entertainment was provided by first place winners in the county 4-H talent contest and a movie by the theater.

The rally adjourned with the reading of the 4-H creed by Carl Moran Jr.

Red Cross Still Short

Robert L. Hamilton and W. Ray Gordon, co-chairmen of the 1959 Hancock County Red Cross Fund Drive, said Tuesday that "slightly under $3,000" has been collected to date leaving about $800 required to meet this year's quota.

Existence of the 25-year-old local Red Cross office is seriously threatened by the deficit and officials claim it will be necessary to close the office unless the full quota is reached.

In addition to disaster relief, the office has been active in aiding members of the armed forces, conducting the Red Cross Junior Swimming Classes and aiding and counseling needy families in the community.

LEGAL NOTICES

AN ORDINANCE PROHIBITING DOGS RUNNING AT LARGE IN THE TOWN OF WAVELAND, AMENDING ORDINANCE PASSED JULY 10, 1888, AS RECORDED ON PAGE 23, OF THE TOWN ORDINANCE BOOK.

Be it ordained by the Board of Mayor and Aldermen of the Town of Waveland that the ordinance published July 10, 1888, and found on page 23 of the Old Ordinance Book, entitled "An Ordinance Prohibiting Dogs Running at Large", is hereby amended by striking therefrom everything starting with Sec. 1 and substituting therefor the following:

Sec. 1. Every owner or person keeping any dog or dogs shall not permit them to run at large within the limits of the Town of Waveland except as is provided herein, and any dog found at large shall be taken up and impounded in the pound provided therefor for a period of five (5) days during which five (5) days the owner of the dog can obtain his, her, their or its dog by the payment of the dog's board at the rate of one dollar ($1.00) per day, plus a deposit of ten dollars ($10.00), which deposit will be refunded if within fifteen (15) days the owner shows evidence that such dog has been inoculated in accordance with paragraph 6815 of the Mississippi Code of 1942, and all amendments thereto. Should any dog not be claimed within the period of five (5) days provided above, such dog shall be disposed of by such method as is deemed advisable by the Town of Waveland.

Sec. 2. Be it further ordained and provided that the foregoing paragraph shall not apply to male dogs inoculated in accordance with paragraph 6815 of the Mississippi Code of 1942 and all amendments thereto and evidencing same by an inoculation tag attached to its collar.

Sec. 3. This ordinance shall become effective on June 1, 1959.

matter of actual teaching materials.

Rep. Walter J. Phillips, attorney for the board, attempted to explain that teachers' homes are part of the school system. He noted that quarters for the vocational agriculture teacher, for example, are required.

"Since we're furnished so much I don't see why they didn't name the school Dedeaux instead of North Central," one patron remarked.

That brought up the matter of why Dedeaux does not have a high school department and Breland explained that because of pupil shortage, rather than equipment, the state authorities had declined to accredit it for high school work.

In the delegation were Mr. and Mrs. Cuevas, Willard-Favre, Namous Ladner, Alden Petersen, A. D. Ladner, Ollis Ladner and Mr. and Mrs. John Ladner.

A petition signed by 30 Catahoula area residents was received and filed. It asked the board for the land on which the former Catahoula School stands to use for the Catahoula Missionary Baptist Church. Trustees noted there is a reversioning clause in the title to this property providing for the estate of the original owners to repurchase at the sale price.

The board approved refunding payment to the county board of supervisors of items it paid relating to the $300,000 bond issue to finance construction of North Central except for a $750 bill from Charles and Travertine, St. Louis, Mo., bond attorneys who checked the issue. Phillips noted that under Sec. 2958 of the state code, legal fees cannot exceed one per cent of the amount of the issue and the school body already had paid that one per cent to the law firm of Russell and Farve which handled the matter locally. The refund agreed to was $381.66 and included a fee for the state bond attorney, legal advertising in the two county newspapers and printing of the bonds.

Routine March bills were approved for payment with the exception of a $165 item for three loads of gas at Sellers School on which an investigation was directed. Tuition fees of $1,675 were paid to Bay High School.

The board also sent back to the supervisors the matter of deeding land for widening of a road at Lakeshore adjacent to the school there. Phillips advising that such action could not be taken by the school trustees.

A recessed meeting was set for 7 p.m. today to discuss the transportation system for next term, particularly the rerouting of buses which will be necessary to service North Central.

Larry Ladner College Honors

Ladner, voted Hancock's most valuable basketball player in 1955, received two letters in basketball and one in football. He was the only Kiln player ever to make the All-State team and was also the only Kiln player to participate in the North-South prep school cage classic.

During his senior high school year, he turned in a brilliant 25 point per game average, later rated as tops for South Mississippi in that year.

While attending Pearl River College at Poplarville, Larry continued his outstanding record. Larry is majoring in physical education and minoring in science and social studies and should receive his bachelor's degree at Louisiana College next Spring.

LARRY LADNER

Snake Story Recalled

While the keeper one day was lowering a rabbit into the snake cage, Hiawatha struck. His fangs hooked into a corner of the horse blanket. He began to swallow.

Far north in Kentucky, Mr. Harris was seated on his porch one afternoon when a Western Union messenger boy came peddling out frantically on a bicycle.

Mr. Harris ripped the yellow envelope. He read:

"Hiawatha swallowing horse blanket. Can't get it away from him. Choking. What shall I do. Return answer requested."

read the blue slip pasted on the telegram.

Mr. Harris, reaching for pad and pencil, he scribbled three words:

Jones, Keeper, Snake Hiawatha West End, New Orleans, La. PRAY FOR HIM, HARRIS.

It might be mentioned that Hiawatha died.

Coast Electric Record Lauded

Shattuck accepted the awards on behalf of the company's 52 employees at a safety meeting Monday when Freeman L. Evans, executive director of the Mississippi Safety Council made the presentation.

Evans added his congratulations to the employees for their achievement in working 401,531 man hours from Nov. 16, 1954, through Dec. 31, 1958, without a disabling accident.

Pass Christian Isles Golf Semi-Finals Set

Woody Waggoner, looking like the man to beat, entered the semi-finals of the Pass Christian Isles Golf Club championship after a default win last weekend over J. Soulie. Waggoner had upended defending champion Dick Merritt in the opening round and meets D. Hammett this weekend.

Hammett scored a 3 and 2 win over Mayor John Scaffide of Bay St. Louis. In other second round matches in the championship flight, Dr. Johnny Griffin, another Bay resident, won by default from Shelby Tucker, last year's runner-up; while Al Hackett defeated C. B. Maginnis 1 up. Griffin and Hackett tangle in the other semi-final match.

In the Class B flight, J. David beat Grady Riggan, 4 and 3; O. P. Adams topped Roy Grazzani, 5 and 4; Gordon Scoper defeated Ken Waltman, 5 and 4; and State Rep. Walter J. Phillips triumphed over Howard Cox, 5 and 4. Semi-final pairings pit David against Adams and Scoper vs. Phillips.

Cary Spence defeated Hudson Wolfe, 4 and 3 in Class C flight while Jim McDonald won over D. McCulloch, Dr. Walter Russo trounced C. Smith, 6 and 5, and Norman Renshaw bettered R. Martin, 4 and 3. Spence now plays McDonald and Russo goes against Renshaw.

Play is under way only in Classes B, C and D of the women's tournament, being conducted simultaneously with that of the men.

In Class B, Sis Bambrink edged Gertrude Perry, 1 up while Mrs. John David got past Opal Hagg, 3 and 2. Doris Merritt beat Stel Johnston, 3 up in Class C flight while Jo Gex went 19 holes to get a 1 up decision over Mrs. John Griffin. Mrs. Walter Russo defeated Cecil Cox, 4 and 3, while Nette Riggan defeated Ethel Gex, 4 and 3.

In Class C, Thelma Easton got a 2 up win over Amy Grazzani; Jackie Bufkin beat Carly Lang, 2 and 1; Alicia Ellis beat Catherine Griffin, 4 and 2; and Nancy Adams defeated Claire McAuley, 3 and 2.

Almost Hole-in-One Thrilled Minister

Answer like a hole-in-one is the way the Rev. A. M. Ellison, golfing pastor of Main Street Methodist Church, felt when he shot he made the hole on the Pass Christian Isles course.

It was on the winning par five No. 6 hole that the person put together three good wood shots only to see No. 3 go bounding over the green. He finally kicked it in the heavy underbrush, took out his wedge and hit an approach which he expected to find on the green.

Ellison and his partners searched the area and found not a sign of the little white pellet. But it should be on the green, he kept insisting, and finally looked in the cup where he found it comfortably nestled. It was the first time he'd birdied the hole and after that shot, the minister's inclined to doubt finding a hole-in-one could be any more thrilling.

Knock-Knock Falls

Trapani's Knock-Knock team fell before Pass Christian Snowball Grocery softball team 21-12 last Wednesday there.

Harry Farve, with four hits in five times at bat and Raymond Strong with three out of four, were leading home hitters.

Brother Benedict Succumbs

Funeral services for Brother Benedict, S. C., a former faculty member of St. Stanislaus College, were held Tuesday morning.

A native of Donaldville, La., Brother Benedict was the son of the late Charles A. Gaudin and Mrs. Athalia Landry Gaudin. He was 52 years old and died Sunday.

He attended parochial schools in Donaldville and entered the House of Formation of the Brothers of the Sacred Heart in 1926. He took his first vows in Metuchen, N. J. in 1927, and his final vows in Bay St. Louis in 1933.

Brother Benedict taught at many schools operated by the Brothers of the Sacred Heart in Louisiana and was on the faculty of St. Stanislaus at one time.

He also had served as secretary to the provincial of the Order.

His last teaching post was at St. Aloysius in New Orleans. He is survived by a host of relatives including two nephews, Brother Roger, S. C., and Brother Adrian, S. C., the latter a member of the faculty at St. Stanislaus.

Religious rites were held at St. Augustine's Church in New Orleans Tuesday with graveside services and burial at 11:30 a.m. in the St. Stanislaus Cemetery here.

Luther Moran

Luther Moran, 71-year-old Lakeshore resident, died in Baptist Hospital in New Orleans Saturday at 3:50 a.m. following a lengthy illness.

A native of Kiln, Mr. Moran is survived by his wife, Mrs. Agnes Krankey Moran and a number of nieces and nephews.

The funeral was held Monday from Tharp-Sontheimer Funeral Home in New Orleans. Masonic services were conducted during the interment in Lakeshore Cemetery.

$450,000 AWARDS FOR ROAD PROJECTS

Back in May, 1934, $450,000 in highway projects made the headlines. This was the total cost for 10 projects in 8 Mississippi counties in the contracts awarded by the Highway Commission. Nowadays, state highway projects run well over $50 million a year to keep pace with the growth and progress of Mississippi.

The legally-regulated beer industry pays nearly $4 million a year in Mississippi taxes nowadays. Last year, it paid nearly one-fourth the amount needed to sustain Homestead Exemption, and provided a substantial source of funds for Old Age pensions, school and rural road programs, and other necessary government functions.

There is ample evidence of increased public acceptance of beer as the light, bright beverage of moderation. For instance, beer sales in food stores are third largest among all beverages — exceeded only by milk and coffee.

Increased sales could mean greater tax yields in Mississippi. Probably because our malt beverage taxes are among the very highest in the nation, such increases have not developed.

Drag Strip Studied

The possibility of a drag strip in Hancock County is expected to come before the board of supervisors at its meeting Monday, according to A. G. Dantagnan, chairman of the county's industrial committee who has met twice in the last week with a group interested in such a project. Movies of national races were shown to the local committee and will be available for the supervisors to view if they are interested. Dantagnan said the people exploring the county for a drag strip come from various parts of the nation and are not confined to coastal enthusiasts.

Electrically Perfect; But That's Not All First Gold Medallion Home Designed for Modern Living

While the Gold Medallion home erected by C. C. McDonald Jr., in Briarwood, on the extension of Main Street is perfection itself in the way of electricity, the highly livable dwelling is a setting of stately pines, magnolias and has many more features to delight the family.

The restful panelling and floor treatment of the interior, the alley-type kitchen, the out-door sliding doors in the living room are sure to be conversation pieces for all who visit the home when it goes on public view beginning at 10 a.m., Saturday for the next month.

Flooring throughout the house, with the exception of the two bathrooms, is covered with vinyl product laid in large sheets manufactured by Armstrong Cork Co. It wears unusual well and is easy to maintain, in addition to its pleasing appearance.

Oregon fir and Southern yellow pine are used to frame the one-story dwelling. A Flinn roof, was selected, being natural for the surroundings. Walls and ceiling are insulated with double thick rock wool to hold heating and air conditioning bills to a minimum. Air-round air conditioning is provided with a General Electric pump which enables the owner to simply set a thermostat, as a button and sit back to enjoy ideal conditions. Colored fixtures by Kohler ceramic tile combine to make attractive guest bathroom with a tub enclosure. The master bath boasts an oversized shower with glass sliding doors and a dressing area with built-ins at the opposite end.

The housewife will find her dream kitchen in the galley-type quarters in this house. There are a wealth of Curtis cabinets with silver wood finish and molded Formica counter tops. A five-foot wide pantry storage area with louvered sliding doors provides commodious storage space. The shelves are adjustable at 12-inch intervals to meet whatever height requirements may be necessary.

Cooking will be on a Westinghouse counter top range and a table high built-in oven. Other utilities, all located to save steps, are a Westinghouse dishwasher, disposal, built-in refrigerator and appliance center. An aluminum exhaust hood and stainless steel double sink complete the unit. A planning desk is located at one end to provide the busy housewife with room for her table work.

The utility room, with a work bench for the men, contains a yellow Westinghouse washer and dryer stacked one on top of the other for convenience in using and to save space.

An intercommunications system is another highlight of the house. It has a radio in the kitchen and speakers in both bedrooms, the kitchen, front door and patio. For example, when the front door bell rings, the householder lying in bed can converse with the caller without ever stirring. And those orders from the patio can be called into the kitchen without leaving the entertaining area.

Aluminum awning windows are used throughout for ease of operation and practically no maintenance. This window, when closed, is about as tight as possible, being ideal for most economic use of year-round air conditioning.

The attractive exterior was developed by using a combination of cream colored brick and grooved siding.

Because every light switch is push button, McDonald and Hardin Shatnick of Coast Electric Company who cooperated in the development, like to call it a "push button house."

Ready-Mix concrete was provided for the foundation and floor slab by Bay Ready Mix Concrete Plant. Painting was handled by Charles Bouis, plumbing by Jack Chevis, ceramic tile by D. A. Drott, electrical work by Stevenson's Radio and Electric, roofing and sheet metal by Dillman Roofing Company and general construction by McDonald.

MEDALLION HOME—Here's a view of the Mississippi Gulf Coast's first Gold Medallion Home, emblematic of the best in home use of electricity, which has been erected by C. C. McDonald Jr., local contractor and developer, on Blue Meadow Road in the Briarwood section. It will be opened to the public for viewing this weekend. First of a series of quality homes to be erected on the heavily wooded tract, it is located on a paved road, close to a shopping center, school and recreation.

Medallion Is to Home As Sterling to Silver

What is a "Medallion Home?" It's one which meets high standards of electrical excellence, offering to the householder the slogan of the industry—Live Better, Electrically—in fact.

The Gold Medallion Home which Hancock County now has is one in which not only wiring and lighting standards are met or exceeded but includes also electrical heating or—as in this home, electrical year-round air conditioning.

The Medallion Home Program is not related to design, cost or location of any home. It relates exclusively to the electrical characteristics—adequacy of wiring, lighting and electrical equipment or provisions therefor.

The builder of homes whose electrical wiring and equipment qualifies under the standards established is given a Gold or Bronze Medallion to be embedded into the concrete work or masonry of the house or affixed in some other way.

He also gets an owner's certificate which is passed on to the purchaser of the residence. The medallion is to the modern home as sterling is to silver—the symbol of excellence.

Since the end of World War II home magazines, feature articles in newspapers, radio and television have told of home (the home of tomorrow) and the importance of electricity in such homes.

The Medallion Electric Home Program was born as a result of the public interest that followed and residents along the Gulf Coast along with Hancock County will now have an opportunity to see firsthand the many modern conveniences for easier living which the program offers.

Many Fixtures Can Use Wall Outlets

You can now install many lighting fixtures in your home even if you don't have an available ceiling outlet. You simply plug them into a handy wall outlet.

According to the American Home Lighting Institute, these fixtures come with decorative pulleys or tracks which fasten to the ceiling, plus a cord with a plug.

You first mount the pulleys or tracks on the ceiling. The cord feeds through these devices and holds the fixture. The other end of the cord plugs into the wall outlet.

Watch Bulb Sizes In Your Fixtures

Keep an eye on the maximum bulb wattages noted in your lighting fixtures, urges the American Home Lighting Institute.

Bulbs of higher wattage overheat the fixtures and can crack the glass shielding. The heat can also shorten bulb life.

Industry Predicts 100,000 Medallion Homes for 1959

A little more than a year ago the home buying public saw the Medallion Homes spar-1958 with specified standards of through the efforts of more than an enviable appeal; a new home was introduced to the electrically perfect home. The electric industry's Live Better program—a nationally inter-electrical contractors be constructed is a conservative Medallion. The reason for the contrast possible by one, according to the Medallion success was two-fold.

fulfilling the quality concept of Home sponsors, and will undoubtedly be surpassed before the Medallion Home as it was conceived under the sponsorship of its parent program, Live Better. The unparalleled success of Medallion Homes so far was achieved. Secondly, today's homeowner at least 100-ampere entrance wants a fresh start—a modern service and a minimum of 20 electric circuits within the house with ample outlets and switches for present and future needs.

What of the future Medallion Home prospects? They look as bright as the home's facade, meant for itself. As mentioned, in 1959 100,000 or more Medallion Homes are expected to be built through the cooperation of local electric utility and builders. Of these, some 20 per cent are expected to be of Gold Medallion proportions.

WHY NOT HERE!

Nearly everywhere you travel these days you see examples of handsome housing developments with all the latest conveniences, veritable garden spots in which to enjoy living at it's best. We feel strongly that there is a demand for a development of this type in Bay St. Louis area.

With this thought in mind, we selected a beautiful wooded 20 acre tract on Blue Meadow Road (extension of Main St.), named it "Briarwood", and have just completed the first house, a Gold Medallion Home. It will be open for 30 days for public inspection starting Saturday May 16th.

The prospective buyer can be very sure that each and every house erected in "Briarwood", will be judiciously selected for beauty, convenience, and permanence.

CONSIDER ALL THESE FEATURES WRAPPED UP IN ONE PACKAGE:

1. Modern, spacious 2 bedroom, 2 bathroom home, carport, and utility room.
2. All Westinghouse appliances, including: counter top range and oven, refrigerator, dishwasher and disposal, washer, drier, and appliance center.
3. Year round G. E. air conditioning.

House Furnished by W. A. McDonald & Sons

Medallion Home Will Open Saturday

 med-100 country scheme. In addition to the open house Saturday, it will be on public view Sunday from 7 to 9 p.m., and next week from 4 to 6 p.m. daily.

From the 200 square-electrically triple, the normal capacity, wiring throughout the house is designed to meet modern standards and to care for those of tomorrow.

One of its most exciting features is the flameless, economical heat pump—the marvel of the century—this providing air conditioning throughout the year. You dial the temperature and regardless of how hot or cold it is outside, this one compact unit provides the cooling or heating needed. Insulated ducts carry the conditioned air to all areas of the home.

The galley-type kitchen is a room or area sure to delight the housewife. Handsome wooden cabinets line the walls and the refrigerator-freezer, the oven and cooking surface are built in. The dishwasher is combined with a garbage disposer that quickly grinds up all garbage (even bones) and whisks it down the drain. An appliance center, complete with a clock timer, gives the housewife full control of the electric frypan, coffee-maker, grill and other appliances that are considered so vital to today's efficiency.

The kitchen also has a handy, well-lighted planning desk, a huge, five-foot pantry type storage area and built-in radio.

While the living room and family room are not enormous, their design with a great expanse of glass in windows and sliding doors give the feeling of spaciousness. Unusually attractive wood paneling enhances its appearance. Entry is through a generous sized foyer which itself boasts a large storage area for coats and other effects.

The laundry equipment—a washer and dryer—are located in the utility room to the far end of the carport. Here also is a work bench which can be a boon to the man-around-the-house or for the Mrs. When she is potting plants or arranging flowers.

The baths are something else to take your breath. The master bath boasts a storage-dressing area in one end and a big glass-enclosed shower in the other. There's even a recessed, vapor proof light in the shower. Both baths have ceiling fixtures that house exhaust fans, lights and electric heaters.

Theory of the Pump

Cold is the absence of heat. When you take heat from the food stored in the refrigerator, it leaves it cold. To remove this heat from the box, a cooling coil in the refrigerator draws heat from the food stored inside. This heat is then pumped to another coil on the outside. This heat is then pumped to another coil outside the refrigerator where it is given up to the room air.

A 40-gallon quick recovery electric water heater in the attic provides all the hot water you could dream of for the baths, the dishwasher and the laundry.

Corner windows in the two larger than usual bedrooms increase wall space plus making more efficient the air conditioning system. Each has spacious storage wardrobes and the guestroom has a built-in, slatted closet.

The newest and finest patterned vinyl is used on the floors throughout the house, making them easy to clean and soft under feet. They blend harmoniously with the paneling and kitchen worktop.

A handsome brick enclosure sets off the patio to the other side of the carport. The stately oaks and magnolias which have been retained on the lot are at their handsomest in the patio which with its night lighting creates a delightful out-door living area.

The entire home, the patio and utility entrance—are connected by an intercommunication set which not only allows conversation between any two points but allows the built-in radio to be heard indoors or on the patio.

Bay Business Gains in March

Bay St. Louis business, with a 22 per cent gain in March over the same month of the preceding year, ranked second in the Biloxi-Gulfport district activity for March, according to the latest Mississippi Business Review. The Bay was up 11 per cent in February.

The district showed a 23 per cent gain and ranged from 37 per cent at Biloxi to 10 per cent at Pass Christian. Gulfport was up 10 per cent and Piquette 14 per cent.

The district as a whole stood at 252 per cent of the 1947-49 average recorded on the register of the Business Research Station at Mississippi State University. By the same standard Biloxi had a 265 per cent; Gulfport, 254 per cent; Bay St. Louis, 222 per cent; Pass Christian, 178 per cent; and Piquette, 201 per cent.

Kids Need Good Light

Make sure your children use proper room lighting when they read or do homework, the American Home Lighting Institute says. Turn on the ceiling fixture for general light, then use an off-center pulley or spotlight fixture to cast light in the specific study area.

Heat Pump Device Used to Year-Round Condition Home

A new type of air conditioning that uses only air and electricity to heat and cool which is becoming increasingly popular is found in the McDonald Gold Medallion home in Briarwood.

Called the air source heat pump, this machine was first installed in 1932 and since World War II has begun to assume a commanding position in the home heating and cooling field.

Chances are your home has a heat pump. Your refrigerator, in engineering language, is one. It's a machine that moves or pumps heat from one location to another.

A room air conditioner also is a heat pump, in the summer taking the heat from indoors outdoors and lowering the indoor temperature. Should you reverse a window air conditioner end-for-end, you would be cooling outdoor air and heating that inside. This is essentially what a heat pump does on a larger scale for the entire home. It exchanges heat between the home and the outdoor air, pumping heat out in the summer and extracting heat from the outdoor air in winter and pumping it indoors, even in zero degree weather.

There is no flame, soot, grime or combustion odor. The compressor is located outside the home and the blower and ducts that carry conditioned air (cooled or warmed) to all parts of the Medallion home are in the attic.

DREAM KITCHEN—Hancock County's Miss Forestry, Myrna Quarterman, inspects the kitchen of the Gold Medallion home, first on the Mississippi Gulf Coast, which C. C. McDonald, Jr. has erected in Briarwood. Note the 200 ampere electrical center on the wall in the background. Myrna is checking the lines from the appliance center which is equipped to handle an electric skillet, grill, coffee-maker and other items. Note the galley-type arrangement of the room which is designed to cut steps to a minimum with all cooking needs in quick reach.

Specify Standard Wiring in Building Plans

When building a new home, specify standard wiring in your own specifications. Don't leave it to the architect or builder to make a complete wiring diagram. If you want a sure of full Housepower, more important, insist that the diagram and specification be the "American Standard" as approved by the National Standards Association, contained in a booklet of the same name.

It is important that the wiring diagram and specification be prepared at the time house plans are made. At the same time electrical equipment should be ordered upon and its location on the same drawing. A copy of the drawing and the electrical specification should be submitted to the financing institution along with the rest of the plans. This enables the financing agency's engineer to allow full value for the wiring.

The electrical contractor should be requested to base his estimate on the wiring diagram and specification, without change. This will save him from his part of the cost to avoid costly "extras" if the contract has been signed. A copy of the wiring diagram specification will then serve as a working guide to the electrician who installs the wiring. This will help to avoid errors.

In the electrical work is completed, arrangements should be made to have it checked back to the wiring diagram and specification to make sure that nothing has been omitted. (In areas the electric league or a utility company will have one for you.)

All of the above steps are followed carefully, you will be getting exactly the kind of electrical system for which you contracted. In the planning stage, it is wise to obtain a copy of "American Standard Requirements for Residential Wiring." The booklet serves as a guide to electrical design for new or modernized homes. You may be able to obtain a copy of "American Standard Requirements for Residential Wiring" from your electric utility company or your electrical contractor. If not, copies are available each from the National Bureau, 155 East 44th Street, New York, N. Y.

Controlled Electric Heat Means Modern Cooking

No new home can be truly modern without a new electric range in the kitchen. Today's homemaker has more time for leisure and more time for herself, thanks to cooking electrically.

No longer must she hover over her cooking and fear scorching. Now with an electric range she need only set the controls and forget about it. The electric range does the rest. When she returns she'll find the food done exactly as she wants it and on time.

In general there are two types of meals that can be completely prepared in an electric oven. Both types require that all of the dishes be baked at the same temperature.

One all-in-the-oven meal consists of dishes that all bake for the same length of time; everything can go into the oven at once, be ignored for an hour or more, then be ready for serving at the same time. Such a meal would perhaps include a meat loaf or roast chicken, baked potatoes, a vegetable casserole, oven-stewed fruit or rice pudding.

The other type of "baked-together" meal requires a little units, or one unit plus some store more attendance, but does allow age space.

wider choice in menu planning. These dishes require different baking times, so each one is put into the oven at a different time. For instance, first put in the casserole, then the cake (made from a mix), then the grilled tomatoes. Whichever way it's done, or whatever is baked, the electric range guarantees reliability—the same amount of heat for the same period, with the same result, time after time.

An overheated kitchen is no longer a problem. The heat goes where it should—directly into the utensil. The oven is so well insulated that the kitchen is never uncomfortably warm.

The electric range is efficient, economical and designed for today's kitchens with today's modern homemaker in mind. She has her choice of numerous cooking "speeds."

She has her choice of numerous styles and sizes, too. She may select a free-standing electric range or a combination of built-in oven and surface-unit components. The free-standing models come in a large selection of widths. They may have one large oven-broiler unit, two smaller ovens, or one unit plus some store more attendance, but does allow age space.

Wiring and Equipment Spell Out Housepower

Housepower means the ability to have a home's wiring system and electrical equipment to work for its owner. And full housepower is what visitors will find at the Gold Medallion Home which C. C. McDonald Jr. has built in Briarwood, when the attractive new home is opened for inspection this weekend.

The average American family uses four times as much electricity today as it did 25 years ago and this consumption is expected to double in the next 10 years.

One of the prerequisites for the Gold Medallion is planning with these needs for full housepower in mind.

At the Briarwood residence, not only is the capacity of the service entrance, breaker panel and all wiring, engineered and installed to handle the lighting, equipment and appliances to qualify it for the ultimate in recognition from the electrical industry, but provision also is made for electrical expansion in the future.

Starting with a 200 ampere panel, there are separate power circuits for the heat pump, the water heater, the built-in range, television, and other major installations include a sub-panel in the utility room.

All switches are touch-type—a push with the finger or elbow and it's on—another gentle tap and it's off.

All outlets are grounded and take the new type plugs that soon will be standard on many appliances and plug-in equipment.

A path of light is provided by multiple-point control of key lights. Outlets are located every 10 feet or closer and there's no need for extension cords cluttering up the floors in this house.

Electricity travels through wires like water through pipes. Small wires, like small pipes, limit the amount of electricity that can flow. When housepower is low, fuses pop, the television picture shrinks, the lights dim and blink and appliances are sluggish. Because the Gold Medallion Home is equipped for full housepower, those annoying things won't happen there.

200 Ampere Center Gives Electricity

Top electrical service is the top feature of a Gold Medallion Home and the residence just completed by C. C. McDonald Jr. in the Briarwood development offers just that.

Electricity emanates from a 200 ampere electrical center—three times what you find in the average home—and continues throughout the home, the utility room and the outside lighting with wiring planned not only to meet today's maximum needs but in anticipation of the needs of tomorrow when the family makes an addition here and there and science develops more electrical features.

Two-way control of lights is provided in several instances. For example, when the man is out of town on a business trip or maybe fishing, and the wife drives home after dark, she can reach from the driver's seat in carport to an overhead switch which immediately lights up the area so she can walk into the lighted house with not a care.

The frequency of electrical outlets is something else to delight any home owner. Outlets for lamps, hi-fi, television, radio and appliances are located so that no usable wall space of 10 feet or more is minus a place to plug in.

The lighting is truly "light for living." Extensive use of fluorescent strip lighting throughout the living room and family room bathes the walls in light yet eliminates direct glare. Fixtures in the kitchen, foyer and entrances are recessed.

The bedroom fixtures are large and provide light, not a glow. In both baths the lighting is overhead as well as at both sides

How to be Good Neighbor Cooking With Electricity

When does it pay to be a kind and considerate neighbor?

One Bay-Waveland resident pondered that question the other night after he had tried to assist a newcomer to the neighborhood by turning on the gas line into a newly renovated dwelling so the family might have fuel.

A handyman with things mechanical, he strode down the lane to the natural gas meter and turned the valve leading to the newcomers' home. Then he strolled home to enjoy a leisurely supper and receive their appreciation.

of the mirrors. In the master bedroom, there's a switch you can reach without getting out of bed which controls the outside lights which surround the home.

Shortly thereafter his telephone began to ring. Likewise the doorbell. The other neighbors were there to inquire if the gas was on in his home. It seems theirs was off. Perhaps a break in the line or some improvements being made in the system, they wondered.

No, nothing like that, he explained, a trifle startled. "Just as I have turned one valve too many," he told them, cutting off the gas to everyone else in the area.

But the kind fellow, who of necessity must remain anonymous, wasn't worried in the slightest. His home is entirely electrical. His supper and everything was moving along in good order.
